Everything about this charming late 1800's federation cottage is appealing - from its pretty street faade with delightful return veranda and sparkling white balustrading and fretwork, four panel front door with leadlight highlight window, and prized location - there is nothing left to want for.

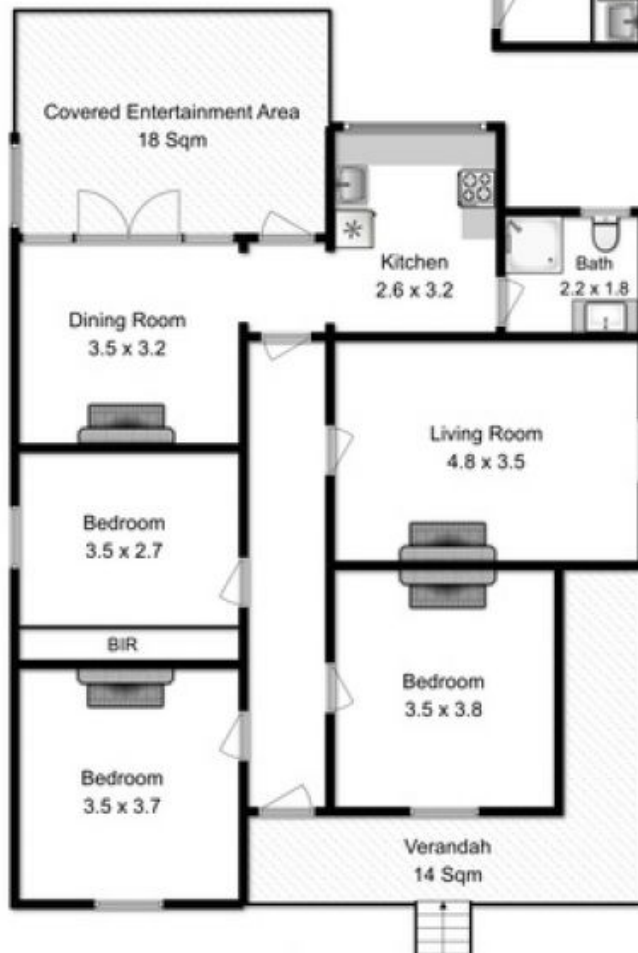

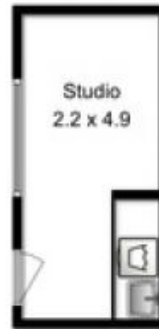

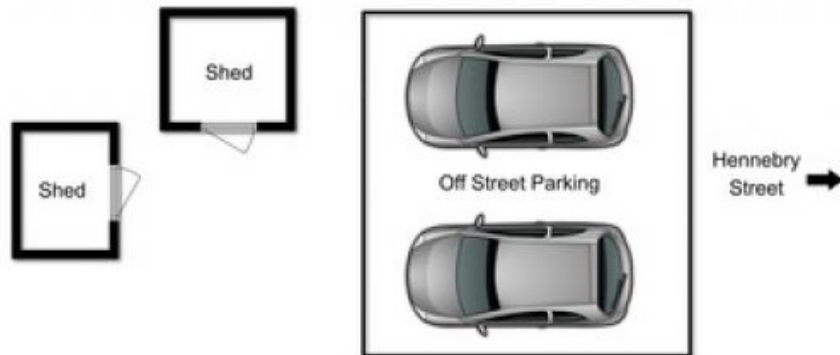

Features you would expect of the era remain, the high ceilings, picture rails, working fireplaces with detailed surrounds, period skirting boards, four panelled doors and traditional cottage floor plan has been beautifully enhanced with stylish dcor choices including plantation shutters, sympathetic amenity upgrades and faultless presentation.

The rear of the property has a delightful formal dining room with colonial glass French doors that flood the space with sun and light - opening out to an undercover entertainment "room" fitted with privacy and weather blinds - allowing for a clever extension to the livi
